No conceament was many teleptioned to New York. The man in charge of the office said that many telegrams were sent to him by telephone for points on Long Island, and that he wrote them out on the regular telegraph blanks and mailed them.

A telegram was sent to a member of The Evening World staff from Boston at 3 o'clock vesterday morning telling of the departure of a person on a train for New York. The Viegram was delivered in Hartin infoen minutes after the traveller from Boston arrived.

The strikers gave out figures to-day showing that the Western Union is losing $60,000 a day and the Postal $40,000 a day because of the strike. They claim that only ninety-two messages were sent over the principal wire believed. New York and Chicago by the Postal yesterlay, Daniel Russell, chairman of the Board of Strategy of the strikers organization, says he has proof that the Postal is handling only 10,000 messages a day here, where the formal number is 35,000 and that the Western Union business has dropped Louis. from 60,000 messages a day to 20,000.

HANSEN NO ROUSTABOUT

Longahoreman Killed at Work Left Good Home and Fine Family. Friends of Fred Hansen, who was willed while working as a longshore-man at Bush Terminal Docks, Brook-igh, last Monday, have quickly rallied to the defense of his memory. An uninformed person at the terminal, when the ambulance was called, told Ambulance Surgeon Norton, of the Norwegian Hospital, that the dead man had been known as "Hard Luck" Hansen swing to a series of accidents, and that he had no home.

This was not true, as investigation proved. Secretary D. Eastwood of the Langshoremen's Union Protective Association, informs The svening World that Hansen was a member in good standing of that overanization, and provided a good home for his wife and children. He was solver and industrious and had worked since the strike at his books.
